from €1,679.00

Dates and duration (days)

Bottle-green, clean water eats its way through glorious white karst. Around every bend, the Krka River (pronounced Kirka) reveals ever more fantastic shades of color in the play of sun and shadow.

To discover Croatia with its islands means above all to perceive water in all colors. While island-hopping across the blue waves of the Adriatic Sea over to limestone islands of Cres and Krk, which glow white in the dark, the intensity of the impressive play of colors becomes even clearer. On their coasts, the bathing bays vie for the title of "the most beautiful in the whole country," while on the mainland the smallest winding roads await their rediscovery by motorcycle travelers. They wind their way up to fabulous views of the gorgeous coastline - and lead to many a hidden, beautiful waterfalls, whose green water plunges into the depths over thick mossy steps.
