Just behind the border, beyond Bitburg, we find a still almost undiscovered motorcycle paradise: the Ardennes.

This small but beautiful mountain range lies on the border between Germany, France, Luxembourg and Belgium. It is not high, but extremely winding, rugged by deep, winding river cuts. And the hilly landscape is green - it is not for nothing that the Ardennes are called "the green heart of Europe".

Forests and meadows line the way, picturesque clearings, villages and castles appear again and again. The starting point of this motorcycle tour is the medieval town of Vianden. From there we discover the "little Switzerland" around the Mullerthal, the border triangle near Ouren and the Napoleonsgaard, with only 548 meters the highest point of Luxembourg. This area offers pure riding pleasure, and behind every bend, the wide views into the deep valleys and onto the furrowed mountain ridges cause amazement.

Day 1: Individual arrival at the base hotel in Vianden (Luxembourg).

Day 2: Echternach, through the Mullerthal, the "Little Luxembourg Switzerland", Diekirch, Mont St. Nicolas
