Andorra, the dwarf state in the Pyrenees with excellent duty-free shopping facilities, is a rather unknown motorcycle paradise from spring to autumn.

You will find unspoilt mountain villages, winding roads of all widths with mostly very grippy asphalt, which invites you to raid the curves. And in many places, cheese, olives and other typical local products are on sale. Travelling through this region makes you feel like you've stepped back 100 years.

In order to "experience" one or the other highlight in France on the outward and return journey, we have planned an overnight stay in Millau.

Therefore, the tour is one day longer than before.

Tour itinerary:

Day 1: Arrival in Lyon.

Departure at 7.00 a.m. from the Geismühle West service area (A57) heading south via Luxembourg, Metz, Nancy, Dijon and Beaune to our intermediate hotel near Lyon.

Alternatively, you can join the group on the way or travel to Lyon on your own.

Day 2: Through the Tarn Gorge to the intermediate hotel.

Day tour along the Massif Central, the Loire via Le Puy and through the Tarn Gorge to our second stopover hotel in Millau.

Day 3: Via Carcassonne to the base hotel in Andorra.

Passing under the Millau Viaduct, one of the highest bridges in Europe, our day's tour first takes us to the Cite de Carcassonne, a UNESCO World Heritage medieval fortress. After the visit we continue to our * base hotel in Andorra.

Day 4: Through the Catalan Pyrenees.

Today we explore the Catalan part of the Pyrenees. To do so, we continue through the city of Andorra via Port del Cantó to Sort, where we take a coffee break. Through the Collegats gorge and over the Coll de Corniols we continue past the Pantà de Rialb reservoir to Oliana, where we stop for lunch. The return journey takes us past the Pantà D'Oliana reservoir and on through the Serge valley back to our base hotel in Andorra.

Day 5: Through the east of the French Pyrenees.

Today we take on the French side of the Pyrenees, starting via Port d'Envalira to Ax-les-Thermes. We continue over the Col de Pailhères with a breathtaking descent into the valley of the Aude. Afterwards we drive through various gorges to the restaurant Le Rébenty, where we have one of the best "Filet Mignon" around Andorra. After we have strengthened ourselves, we continue through the Gorges de Saint Georges and over various passes to Mont-Louis with its picturesque, medieval town centre. Our last stop on the way back to the base hotel is one of the largest sun ovens in the world in Odeillo.

Day 6: Rest day.

This day is dedicated to rest.

You can devote yourself to duty-free shopping or enjoy the wellness area of our base hotel.

Day 7: Over the highest passes of the Catalan Pyrenees.

Today's tour takes us via La Seu d'Urgell to Gósol, a small town where Pablo Picasso once spent a summer. We continue over the Serra del Cadí to Berga. Via La Pobla de Lillet and the 1920 metre high Coll de la Creueta and the Collada de Toses we reach the N260, on which you can drive yourself dizzy on the way into the valley. Via the Col de Puymorens and the Port d'Envalira we return to the base hotel in Andorra.

Day 8: From Andorra via Haut-Languedoc to Millau.

Today our stay in Andorra ends, but we have a great tour ahead of us! On winding and less frequented side roads we ride through the Haut-Languedoc Nature Park and the Montagne Noire back to Millau, where we stay in the same hotel as on our arrival.

Day 9: Through the Ardèche Gorge to the intermediate hotel in Lyon.

Today we start a rather long stage to our intermediate hotel near Lyon. On the way there we have the opportunity to drive through the Ardèche Gorge.

Day 10: Return journey.
Return journey Lyon - Krefeld.
Of course you can also depart individually.

- We reserve the right to change the programme, route or hotel. -
