If you want to visit Rübezah and make your way to the Krkonoše Mountains, you will soon find out that the eastern part of the Czech Republic has really great motorcycle routes to offer!

The journey begins when we cross the Ore Mountains on winding side roads on the way to our base hotel in Špindleruv Mlýn. On the spot, we will of course circle the Krkonoše Mountains with its highest mountain, the 1602 m high Schneekoppe.

But we also have fun on the winding roads through the no less interesting Orlické Mountains and cross the Jizera Mountains on the way to visit Zittau.

And of course, there is no shortage of culinary delights either, after all, Czech cuisine is just as famous as the beer brewed here.

Tour itinerary:

Day 1:
Journey to the Erzgebirge.

Departure at 8.00 a.m. from the rest stops Geismühle West (A57), joint journey via motorway and country road to our intermediate hotel in the Erzgebirge.

Individual arrival is possible.

Day 2:
Through the Erzgebirge to Spindleruv Mlýn.

Our tour today takes us first over the heights of the Ore Mountains before we cross the Elbe at Decín. After a rest at the famous biker's cave, we continue to our base hotel in Spindleruv Mlýn.

Day 3:
Around the Krkonoše Mountains.

On today's tour, we will circle the Krkonoše Mountains on wonderfully winding roads, over whose crest the border between the Czech Republic and Poland runs. Thanks to Schengen, border crossings nowadays go almost unnoticed.

After a stopover in Hirschberg (Jelenia Góra) we continue through the eastern part of the Krkonoše Mountains before we ride back to the Czech Republic and our base hotel via the 1046 m high Przełęcz Okraj (Grenzbauden Pass).

Day 4:
Through the Eagle Mountains.

The Adlergebirge is the destination of our tour today. On the way, we visit the medieval marketplaces of Trutnov and Náchod and ride through the romantic valley of Divoká Orlice.

On the return journey, we will visit the historic old town of Jaromer before returning to our base hotel in Schindlermühle.

Day 5:
Through the Isergebirge mountains to Zittau.

Today's tour leads us on beautiful side roads through the Isergebirge mountains to Zittau. As the city is only a few kilometers away from the border triangle of Germany, the Czech Republic, and Poland, we cross borders that used to be difficult to cross several times, almost without noticing it.

The way back leads us, past the so-called "Oheimgrube" (Kopalnia Wujek), where coal is extracted in the open-cast mine, to Frýdlant v Čechách (Friedland in Bohemia), where we stop at the marketplace. Through the Jizera and Krkonoše Mountains, we will then return to the base hotel.

Day 6:
Day off.

Today, relaxation is the order of the day, which is particularly suitable for the Aquapark in Spindleruv Mlyn. But also a visit to the 1602 m high Schneekoppe is relaxing ... at least if one takes the cable car for the way there.

Day 7:
Through the Elbsandsteingebirge into the Erzgebirge.

On our way back to the west we make a detour to Bohemian Switzerland and from there we continue via winding paths through the Ore Mountains to our intermediate hotel in Annaberg-Buchholz.

Day 8:
Going home.

After breakfast, we will start the journey home together or individually.

- We reserve the right to change the program, route, or hotel.
