Join us on a 2-days "Adventure bike" tour through the stunning scenery of western Cuba.

Tour description:

Day 1: From Havana to Viñales (260 km)

In the morning, we will pick up our bikes in Miramar and ride westwards. Via small streets, we will reach Las Terrazas, an ecological rural community and recreational site, and enjoy the river San Juan. Optionally, we can have lunch here as well.

Riding through the Sierra del Rosario, we are heading towards the Valley of Viñales, passing one of the few areas in Cuba with natural vegetation. This part is especially fun in terms of riding, as the road conditions get rougher. We will take a short break in San Diego de Los Baños and afterward enter the national park La Güira, reaching the Cueva de Los Portales, which is a large cave that is a former commando post for Ché Guevara during the Cold War Crisis now housing a small museum.

We will ride through beautiful landscapes for another hour before finally reaching the Valley of Viñales. Before we enter the village and check in at our casa particular, we stop at the lookout point Los Jazmines.

Day 2: Riding through tobacco fields (340 km)

We leave Viñales after breakfast towards the Cemetery of the Militiaman in La Moncada, where we will stop and then continue passing the Gran Caverna de Santo Tomás, one of the biggest caves systems in Latin America. One of Cuba's most beautiful stages awaits us after passing through the small town of Sumidero.

On our way to Isabel Rubio, we will ride through picturesque valleys with only very little traffic. We continue to the Carretera Central and passing wide tobacco fields, we will reach San Juan y Martínez, where we can enjoy lunch (optional). We ride back to Miramar and return the motorbikes. Afterward, we will be brought back to our accommodation in Central Havana by a transfer.
