Escape from Ulaanbaatar for a few days of exciting motorbike riding through the sparsely populated provinces of Tuv "Central" aimag and Dundgov "Middle Gobi"

This motorcycle circular route covers 1200 km in 4 - days riding. The landscape is varied and dramatic including granite mountains, sand dunes and rolling steppe. It is remote and you may ride for hours without meeting people or other vehicles. Most of the population in the countryside still live a nomadic or semi - nomadic existence, moving frequently with their herds of animals.

This itinerary is suitable for experienced riders, preferably with some off-road experience. Mostly the trail follows rough jeep tracks, but we do ride some distance on tarmac.

Non-riders are welcome to join the group and can travel in one of the support vehicles.

Itinerary:

Day 1: Arrive Ulaanbaatar

You will arrive in Ulaanbaatar and go to the hotel. In the afternoon or evening you will meet the tour leader and the rest of the group. The pre - tour meeting is about the day by day itinerary and safety issues. Overnight in the hotel.

Day 2: Ulaanbaatar - Baga Gazriin Chuluu

Make an early start to get out of the city of Ulaanbaatar and onto the road leading south to the Gobi. The road is blacked - topped for a while, then soon becomes a rough jeep track as it crosses the green rolling hills of TUV (Central) Province. Ride on to Baga Gazar, a mountain of unusual granite rocks which are home to ibex, Marmots, steppe fox and plenty of birds of prey. Overnight 'Ger' Camp.

Day 3: Baga Gazriin Chuluu - Saikhan Ovoo

Ride through "Mandalgov", the capital town of Dundgov Province and continue across the open rolling hills and steppe of "Middle Gobi" to the rocky cliffs beside the "Ongii" river where the "Ger Camp" is located. Overnight "Ger" Camp.

Day 4: Saikhan Ovoo - Ovu Burd Els

Ride northwards along the rough gravel tracks of "Dundgov". Pass by "Zorgol Khairkhan", a dramatic granite mountain with bizzare rock formations jutting out against the skyline. Our last night is spent not far from "Bayanunjuul" village at "Ovur Burd". Overnight "Ger" camp at "Ovur Burd Els".

Day 5: Ovur Burd Els - Ulaanbaatar

As we return to Ulaanbaatar, the landscape becomes gradually greener and more mountainous. Even close to the city people still live the "Traditional Lifestyle" but there are more horses and less camels than we encountered in the Gobi. We expect to arrive at around midday. Overnight in the hotel.
