The perfect combination: training & tour in dreamlike surroundings. Safety training on the practice course in Bolzano and then a guided tour through the Dolomites.

In a combination of a half-day safety training and a two-and-a-half-day guided tour, you have the opportunity to learn new things as well as improve and stabilize familiar ones. Especially at the beginning of the season, it is ideal to first train basic techniques such as gaze guidance, braking, or dodging on a closed-off practice area. Due to the small group size - a maximum of six participants, the trained and certified trainer has enough space and time for individual tips, especially regarding the special features of the mountain tracks in South Tyrol.

After the training, you will have the opportunity to get to know the roads and especially the passes of the Dolomites and the neighboring areas during a guided two-and-a-half-day tour. On selected routes, you will put the contents of the safety training into practice and sustainably increase your safety and ultimately your enjoyment of motorcycling. We start already in March because there can be already beautiful and warm days in South Tyrol - the ideal start into the motorcycle summer!

Training contents & tour description:

It is expedient to arrive at the hotel the evening before. There we meet ideally already dinner time. Please send us the information about your arrival. After breakfast on Friday morning, we will ride together to the training area or meet there with the participants who are accommodated elsewhere. Meet at the Safety Park at 08:00 h, so that the training can start at 08:15.

The training will take place on a secured, very well equipped training area and in all weather conditions on the Safety Park area in Pfatten a little south of Bolzano.

After the lunch break, we will explore the surrounding mountains as part of a first familiarization tour and will pay more attention to transporting what we practiced in the morning to the road.

On Saturday and Sunday, the tours start and end in Klobenstein and lead us through the spectacular world of the South Tyrolean mountains. Our tour guides have the local knowledge to include not only the classics but also the lesser-known routes in the tour. And they know the best places for breaks, snapshots, and the supply of physical well-being.

After the tours, the hotel offers ample opportunity to relax in the Wellness area and fortify yourself for the next day with dinner featuring local specialties. Due to Corona, the wellness area may still be closed or have limited use.

The arrival with car and trailer is possible without problems, both can be parked at the hotel for the duration of the stay.
